A Special Gift to a Special Olympian

customarily given to special Olympians around the globe. Sharing in the occasion (from left) are JOA president Mike Fennell and Olympian Clifton Forbes. Dr Rogge and wife Anne wrap up a three-day visit today after he attends the extraordinary general meeting of the JOA members at the JOA offices at 10:00 am. He then attends a press conference at midday at the Jamaica Pegasus Hotel before departing the island via private aircraft at 8:00 pm. Yesterday Dr Rogge made courtesy calls on the Governor General, the Prime Minister and the Opposition leader. He also attended an NCB-sponsored reception at the Pegasus. (Photo: Bryan Cummings)
